Nuto Farms Receives Gold Rating
for Outstanding Facility

Rice Lake, Wisc. (September 13, 2005) — Nuto Farm Supply, Inc., grower of Kitchen Kleen potatoes and manufacturer of Gotatoes[™], is pleased to announce that they have been awarded a Gold Rating for a September 13 facility inspection by Silliker, the leading international network of accredited food testing and consulting laboratories. This is the second time Nuto Farm Supply has achieved the Gold Rating.

Silliker's Gold Rating is based on food safety and quality systems, grounds, building facilities, equipment, pest control, employee practices, receiving, storage, shipping, plant sanitation, processing, and food security. A Gold Rating is only awarded when a facility exceeds 95% in all aspects of the inspection.

“We are very pleased to receive this award,” stated Dennis West, Owner of Nuto Farm Supply. “This recognition confirms the dedication of our employees and Nuto Farms’ on-going commitment to meeting and exceeding food safety compliance requirements. Quality at Nuto Farms is, and always has been, foremost in our daily operations and planning.”

Nuto Farm Supply, Inc. began operation in 1929 when Barron West planted his first crop of Russet Burbank potatoes in the fertile northern Wisconsin soil. This modest, hard-working farmer could not have imagined that his five-acre plot would some day evolve into a 5,000-acre, state-of-the-art, fully-irrigated farm that maintains a "hands-on" approach from seed to store shelf.
