

Nuto Farms Supply
to Attend Women's Fall Expo

Rice Lake, Wisc. (October 20, 2005) -- Nuto Farms Supply, grower of Kitchen Kleen Potatoes and producer of Gotatoes™, will be attending the Rochester Women's Fall Expo in Rochester, Minnesota. The Expo takes place on October 22, and features an entire day of seminars, entertainment, and food exhibitors. It is designed to help women explore prioritizing their busy lifestyles.

Nuto Farms will be providing attendees with samples of Gotatoes; mini-baker Russets that are triple-washed and packaged with creamy cheddar cheese, rich buttermilk ranch, or zesty fat-free salsa toppings. Upon returning home, attendees will find Gotatoes at Wal-Mart Super Centers and local grocery and convenience stores, in addition to Nuto Farms' signature Russet potato, Kitchen Kleen Potatoes.

Kitchen Kleen potatoes are available to consumers October through June at local grocery stores in 5, 8, 10, 15 and 20 lb. bags. Kitchen Kleen Potatoes are naturally fat-free and cholesterol-free. Also, Kitchen Kleen potatoes have as much potassium as two bananas, are an excellent source of fiber when eaten with the skin, and contain the same amount of Vitamin C as an orange, essential for keeping busy women healthy.

Nuto Farms Supply, Inc. began operation in 1929 when Barron West planted his first crop of Russet Burbank potatoes in the fertile northern Wisconsin soil. This modest, hard-working farmer could not have imagined that his five-acre plot would some day evolve into a 5,000-acre, state-of-the-art, fully-irrigated farm that maintains a "hands-on" approach from seed to store shelf.
